Employee Benefits Plan Audits, Investigations, and ERISA Litigation

Fraser Stryker has extensive experience representing employers, plan administrators, and fiduciaries in audits and litigation. Working closely with attorneys in the Firm's Litigation Practice Group, Fraser Stryker employee benefits attorneys have successfully defended employee benefits plans and their fiduciaries against numerous types of claims, including breach of fiduciary duty, preemption, advisor malpractice, prohibited transactions, and other ERISA violations. Fraser Stryker routinely represents employee benefits plans undergoing Internal Revenue Service and Department of Labor audits and investigations.

Legislative Services

Fraser Stryker recognizes that federal and state employee benefits laws are constantly changing. Fraser Stryker employee benefits attorneys continuously monitor state and federal statutory developments, as well as regulatory changes issued by the Treasury Department, Department of Labor, and Department of Health and Human Services. Fraser Stryker issues client alerts to advise of recent legislative developments that may affect their employee benefit plans.

Fraser Stryker also works with legislators, regulators, and all levels of government to change employee benefits laws and ease administrative burdens. Fraser Stryker attorneys have developed legislative proposals for a client to address pension underfunding and unfunded liabilities of a public pension system. Fraser Stryker attorneys have also testified before Congress regarding retirement plan issues.
