"I encourage clients to ask any question, no matter how small, because clarity and trust empower better decisions and peace of mind."

Ann L. Zebrowski represents businesses and individuals in civil litigation, with a focus on labor and employment, insurance defense, legal malpractice, products liability, and personal injury/wrongful death. Drawing on over a decade of private practice and in-house experience, she delivers practical, solution-oriented guidance with a tenacious and common-sense approach. Known for her creative problem-solving and empathetic advocacy, Ann listens closely to understand each client's unique needs, simplifies complex legal issues, and works to relieve stress by being responsive, clear, and supportive throughout the process.

Counseling Employers on Workplace Law

Ann advises employers on a broad range of labor and employment issues, including compliance with federal, state, and local employment laws, workplace investigations, and defending against claims of discrimination, harassment, and wage-and-hour violations. She also provides proactive advice and develops training programs on employment best practices to help clients reduce risk and foster a strong workplace culture.

Litigation Strategy & Trial Advocacy

Throughout her career, Ann has represented clients in both state and federal courts, defending clients in complex litigation, including personal injury, products liability, and professional negligence cases. Her experience includes taking and defending numerous depositions, navigating high-profile matters, and preparing cases for trial or resolution. Whether representing businesses, insurers, or individuals, Ann focuses on what matters most to her clients: achieving favorable outcomes with minimal burden.

Beyond the Office

Outside the office, Ann enjoys learning new recipes, trying different restaurants, spending time with friends and family, and cheering on her beloved Iowa Hawkeyes.
