"My goal is to empower individuals and entrepreneurs to protect what matters most and take strategic steps toward building their future."

Daniel J. Ugarte's legal practice centers on corporate law, estate planning and probate, and real estate transactions. He assists individuals, entrepreneurs, and businesses by providing counsel that allows them to protect their interests and make informed legal decisions. His work focuses on helping individuals and business owners clearly define their objectives and implement solutions designed to support their goals.

Strategic Guidance for Families and Businesses

Daniel helps clients navigate common legal challenges such as selecting the right tools and strategies for protecting assets, planning for loved ones, or launching and managing a new business venture. Through his thorough approach and prompt communication, he ensures clients feel informed through every stage of the legal process.

Whether guiding a family through estate planning or helping an entrepreneur navigate entity formation, he strives to be a thoughtful advisor who helps clients accomplish their goals and identify new opportunities along the way.

Education and Early Experience

Earning his J.D. at the University of Nebraska College of Law, Daniel participated in the Weibling Entrepreneurship Clinic during law school, where he worked with several clients to form their business entities and draft operating agreements. Additionally, he spent two summers as a law clerk at Fraser Stryker, working on client matters in estate planning and corporate law, confirming his desire to focus on helping individuals and businesses secure their legacies and build lasting foundations. Daniel holds a B.S. in Criminology and Criminal Justice and an M.S. in Criminology and Criminal Justice from the University of Nebraska at Omaha.

Life Outside the Office

Daniel is a longtime fan of movies, TV, music, and stand-up comedy. He has a home theater setup to enjoy his favorite entertainment and regularly hosts movie nights, game nights, and trivia gatherings with friends. A passionate football fan, Daniel spends most Sundays rooting for the Seattle Seahawks.
