“I value the opportunity to advocate for people when they need it most and help them navigate difficult circumstances with confidence.”

Soffi Vernon focuses her legal practice on litigation, including personal injury, insurance defense, and medical malpractice. She works with individuals, families, and business organizations, approaching each matter with empathy, strong communication, and a commitment to advocating for her clients.

A Client-First Approach

Soffi believes strong client relationships are built on trust, empathy, and clear communication. She takes the time to understand her clients' circumstances and concerns, particularly when they are facing difficult or uncertain situations. Her goal is to provide thoughtful guidance and effective advocacy while helping clients feel informed and supported throughout the legal process.

Education and Advocacy Experience

Soffi earned her Juris Doctor, with distinction, from the University of Nebraska College of Law and her B.S. in Business Management and Business Law, with distinction, from the University of Nebraska–Lincoln. During her final year of law school, she participated in the Children's Justice Clinic, where she gained experience advocating for juveniles facing difficult circumstances. She is also trained as a Guardian ad Litem in Nebraska.
